Family Support Network

Rep Bruce Smith said that the Pennsylvania American Legion has established a Family Support Network to help families of servicemen and servicewomen who are part of Operation Desert Shield.

Family members facing difficulties should call the American Legion Network at 1-800-786-0901. When the nature of the problem is determined, a legation or auxiliary member will be contacted to provide the service requested.

According to Edward T. Hawk, Pennsylvania Department of Human Resources, the services include family financial assistance if children are in need; baby cribs; winterization projects such as snow shoveling, snow blowing, and minor auto and household repairs.

Smith urged citizens to call toll-free numbers if they know of a family which could use the Family Support Network.

The York County legislator also urged area residents to write to personnel serving in the Persian Gulf.

He said that these men and women are anxious to receive news from home but many of them do not receive mail on a regular basis from the United States.

Residents wishing to write to these men and women may do so by sending letters to Army Service Member, Operation Desert Shield, APO, NY 09648-0006 (Army and Air Force personnel).

To write to Navy and Marine personnel, address letters to Army Service Member, Operation Desert Shield, FPO, NY 09666-0006.
